THE AMERICAN INTERNATIONAL SECTION

In the ECOLE - the COLLEGE - the LYCEE

The American International Section at Saint Vincent-Providence is a rigorous academic program which allows its students to conduct high-level study of the English language while at the same time acquiring a broad cultural education. This course of study constitutes a considerable asset for any future profession, even in scientific fields, which demands an understanding of two languages and two cultures. Students of this section will have the possibility to take the international DNB (Diplôme National du Brevet), at the end of their 3<sup>ème</sup> and the OIB (Option Internationale au Baccalauréat), at the end of their secondary school studies. The OIB diploma is awarded to students who possess exceptional linguistic skills. High school students take all the baccalaureate exams in their series (L, S or ES), except English and History-Geography, whose oral and written exams are taken separately and in English.

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES:

To expose our students to new cultures, new ideas, and new ways of doing things.

To favor and develop bilingualism in a cosmopolitan, culturally rich atmosphere.

To prepare students for the French Baccalaureate's International Option (OIB).

To help in the orientation of each graduating student who wishes to apply to an English-speaking university or pursue his/her studies in France.

STUDENT PROFILES AND ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS:

The following students can apply to the American Section:

Native English speakers of all nationalities, from MS, age 4.

Bi-national or bilingual students, from MS, age 4.

French-speaking students who have excellent academic results, a large potential in language and substantial personal motivation, from CM1, age 9.

The title "American Section" describes the section's identity, but is not exclusive in any way. This means that a student's admission does not hinge upon any link he or she may have or have had with the United States.

Each secondary student, and each primary student outside of Saint Vincent primary school, who wishes to enter the International Section, must pass an oral and written test in order to evaluate his or her ability to speak, write and understand English at the required level. Three sessions of admission tests are scheduled throughout the year, spring and August (last session exclusively reserved for families returning from abroad or arriving in Brittany).

Only those students whose academic performance clearly shows a strong aptitude to follow this program are admitted to the section.

CURRICULUM OF THE AMERICAN INTERNATIONAL SECTION (A bi-national, complementary education)

American Curriculum: Throughout their academic career at every grade level, our students are taught by native English-speaking teachers who employ American materials and pedagogical methods. Language and literature, history and certain social sciences are entirely taught in English following the standards and expectations of the most demanding American curricula.

French Curriculum: French, Geography, Mathematics, Science, and all other options are taught in French. They follow the French national curriculum determined by the Ministry of Education.
